

November 2, 2023

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to express my support for TeensTalk and its mission to create positive change in our schools and communities. TeensTalk has had a tremendous impact on our students and staff of schools who have been fortunate enough to hear this organization speak and I believe that continued financial support is vital for its success.

TeensTalk has been a beacon of hope and a source of empowerment for many individuals, families, and communities. Their commitment to promote teen mental health, disrupt stigma and build a supportive community has made a significant difference in the lives of countless people. Their tireless efforts have created a more inclusive and supportive environment, and our schools have seen firsthand the positive changes they have brought about.

The funding requested by TeensTalk is critical for sustaining and expanding their important work. It will enable them to reach more people, develop new programs, and continue to make a lasting impact in schools and communities across the province. With the financial support they are seeking, they can further improve the quality of life for those in need of mental health support and address some of the most pressing mental health challenges facing our schools and communities today.

I firmly believe that investing in TeensTalk is an investment in our youths' futures. The impact they have had on the lives of individuals and families is immeasurable, and I have no doubt that they will continue to bring about positive change. Your support in funding their initiatives will undoubtedly lead to a more healthy, supportive, resilient, and compassionate province.

Thank you for your time and consideration. Please feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions or require further information regarding TeensTalk. I am more than willing to discuss the incredible work they do and the positive impact they have on our school communities.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Williamson

Deputy Director of Education

Northwest School Division